

WASHINGTON - Congressman Lee Terry today made the following remarks about Major General Roger P. Lempke, Adjutant General of the Nebraska National Guard, who has announced that he will retire in November.

"I join all Nebraskans in saluting General Lempke for his dedicated service to our State and to the Nation," Terry said. "For the past seven years, General Lempke tirelessly led the courageous and committed men and women of the Nebraska Army and Air National Guard. Under General Lempke's leadership, the Nebraska National Guard has answered the call in our State, throughout the country and all over the world. Nebraskans are proud of General Lempke and the outstanding members he leads. General Lempke's service and leadership of Nebraska's Guard will always be a source of pride and inspiration for our State."
